FALL/HARVEST

ISSUE NO. 104

SEPTEMBER 2023

An idea to help feed the hungry comes to fruition!
St. Paul's Pantry was blessed and opened to the public on Sunday August 13, 2023! Thanks be to God!

Have a blessed fall season!

Greetings!

Friends, after a lovely summer we once again find ourselves in the Season of Creation. It is that special time when the Church, across denominations and continents, looks to our role as stewards of Creation. It is an opportunity for the 2.6 billion Christians around the world to take stock of how we are doing and consider what we could do better as stewards of our Father's world.

And this is not just an issue that Christians are approaching from a faith-based perspective. In Jordan, over 6,000 mosques have been converted to solar power in response to a growing movement of environmentalism amongst Imams, and interfaith groups of Muslims, Jews and Christians in the area are working together to protect the Jordan River.

For me, the more that I read about faith-based responses to the climate crisis, and pray on this, the more convinced I am that people of faith have an active role to play in the wider conversation about care for our planet. As our youth have reminded us, "there is no Planet B".

In the months to come our Spiritual Development Committee will be bringing you opportunities to delve into the topic of faith & climate change. At this point, I would like to introduce you to the Christian climate scientist, Dr. Katherine Hayhoe, who believes that there is hope and that together we can fix the climate crisis. Dr. Hayhoe is the chief scientist for the Nature Conservancy and is also a Canadian, who is able to speak directly to the particular issues that Canada faces.

In the meantime, the most important things that we can do to address climate change is to talk about it and take ownership for our own households. In the Spring I was inspired by a member of our Advisory Board who spoke of unplugging items around the home that aren't being used and how that can reduce the use of electricity. Once again, we must recognize that little things mean a lot!

May we never forget the words of the psalmist, "Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth" (Ps. 124:8).

In Christian love,
Rev Bonnie

Are You Prepared? Seminars (Sept. 19, and 26th)

A number of people came out to participate in the Are You Prepared? Conversation Starters in End-of-Life Preparations seminars. In Session 1, Rev. Bonnie spoke on Spirituality; Linden Mackey spoke on prearrangements, aftercare and funeral services; and Peter Misiaszek gave information on finances, stewardship, benevolent giving, and tax implications. Session 2 topics were: estate planning, wills, (MAID) medically assisted dying, and hospice services.

Here are a few
Session 1:

The Canon's Corner: The Rev. Canon Greg Physick Sept '23

Caution: This reflection may trigger painful memories. Please know there are people to talk to, those who will not judge, but walk with you and listen to you.

On Sept. 17 th we heard Matthew 18:21-35. The text about forgiveness holds a parable that ends with a harsh condemnation: the parable is about one who was forgiven a great amount of debt, but did not forgive another who owed him a small amount. The unforgiving slave/servant was handed over to be tortured until the debt is paid. The parable ends with 'so my heavenly Father will also do to every one of you, if you do not forgive your brother or sister from your heart'.

I wonder how others heard that parable. As we learned in Sunday School, a parable is an earthly story with a heavenly meaning, a means by which Jesus taught many things. They can be filled with hyperbole, with exaggeration. They are used to get attention!

For too long, such words heard in Matthew today are used by some clergy (of any denomination) when a woman or child speaks of being assaulted, abused, and/or raped by a loved one. 'Go home and be a dutiful wife. Forgive!' 'Listen to your father, your mother and honor them.' So many are not believed even by the other parent. (Yes, some men are violated by their spouses/partners too & similar words are given.)

In Luke's gospel (chap. 17:3-4), Jesus speaks about rebuking the one who has sinned and 'if he repents', forgive him. Of course, repentance has to be genuine, not lasting just a week until the next beating. The classic sequence of abuse, tears and 'I am sorry', and then more abuse and more tears and words of 'sorry' is a pattern known to many. Again I say: Do know there are clergy who will walk with you, listen to you, not judge you and certainly will not say 'forgive and go home right now'.

Forgiveness is not easy or 'instant'. It may take a very long time in some instances and one may die before any forgiveness is offered.

Everyday grievances and hurts are forgiven much more easily in many situations. Even then, we may find it difficult. The theme of 'repentance' as noted by Jesus in Luke is a very important step on the journey. Of course, The Lord's Prayer holds the petition: forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us. What is the Spirit saying to us at this time as we reflect on the theme of forgiveness?

As people of Christ we live in a broken world. We are wounded and we hurt others. We may seek forgiveness from others we have wounded—and certainly seek God's forgiveness each time we confess our sins. Most of this is done in the 'general confession' during a service and one may see his or her priest for private confession. The Anglican teaching about private confession is: 'none must, all may, some should'. I do not like using the word 'should' as it can come across so judgmental, yet at times it fits.

Our Christian faith teaches us that God in Christ is the ultimate judge, the one who offers love and forgiveness. As for the brokenness brought about by terrible abuse and violation of all that we are as a child or an adult, I do not for a moment believe the parable is to be taken literally when it says that our heavenly Father will hand one over to be tortured until the debt, in this case, forgiveness, is paid. To repeat, forgiveness may take a long time.

It seems St. Paul's words used in a closing prayer at the Eucharist is a good way to close, words for each of us to pray in our own brokenness and life's journey that holds wonder:

'Glory to God, whose power working in us, can do infinitely more than we can ask or imagine.'

WARDEN'S WALK by Betty Hooper and Paul Carpentier.

As fall approaches it is really great to get our worship service back into our beautiful church! Not only is it beautiful, it is well constructed and structurally sound, as confirmed by the engineer who conducted our building structural assessment of the church and hall last month. It had been over 15 years since our last inspection, and the management team felt it important to know the current status before making any decisions on future property expenditures. This is particularly important as our current financial position is a concern.

Speaking of finances, to steal Don Brohm's tag line ("Just so you know"), the envelope offerings are falling 16% below budget year to date (app. $19,000). As we start back in the fall this tends to improve; may it be so! We appreciate your generosity in supporting St. Paul's efforts at spreading the Good News both in Lindsay and abroad, thank you. To save money, we have gone back to "in house" janitorial services and will aim to curtail any expenses we can.

The "Spring Church Cleaning" is steadily progressing and the dungeon is starting to look more and more like a well organized basement. The work will continue with attention going to the storage container in the parking lot, the former youth area, the Sunday School area, and all the various nooks and crannies we've stuffed things over the past several decades. The number of things being found that we can use and/or will never use is amazing, and are being actioned!

Rev. Bonnie and John Sale have put together a two-session program called "Are You Prepared?", addressing the many issues that one confronts as they approach life's end. It will be a great opportunity to get information you might need (and maybe a little push) for you to put these affairs in order. Please consider signing up for the Sept 19th & 26th sessions by calling the office.

Thank you for the work each of you do at St. Paul's. Thank you to those who visit the nursing homes on our behalf. Thank you to those who sing in our choir, read lessons and act as lay readers to enhance our worship service. Thank you for the support you give one another, both within the church and the community. May we continue to do our best to "Know Jesus, and to make Him known".

On behalf of the parish, thanks to our Wardens Betty, and Paul for stepping up and taking on essential roles at St. Paul's! Thanks to Rev. Bonnie and the rest of the Management Team as well! We appreciate the time and effort each of you puts in for the benefit of our church members, our beloved church building, and future! Bravo!!

CHURCH PROPERTY UPDATE

Don Brohm, Church Property Manager
assisted by Ray Marshall and Don Chase

I like good news first; so let's start with some. All rents are up to date and so we say God Bless our Tenants.

Now for some not so good news; as always repairs have to be made; some caused by old age and some by a strong hail and wind storm.

38 Glenelg lost a storm window (upper) due to hail and some leaking taps due to old age. (Lower) 38 required a tree to be removed; paid for by our Tenant.

32 Glenelg had some roof damage due to critters.

The Church roof has some slate that needs some attention up on top of the Church on the West side. We also have some cement work to be done by the entrance door in the hall. We had Dan Scott (The Roofer) go over our buildings and other than what is reported; we fared pretty well from the storm.

We have had the heating systems looked at for the fall for our Tenants and other than a couple of valves for the boilers we did very well.

41 Russell needs some ceiling work done as old paint is peeling off the ceiling and this is being looked after and we had some loose boards on the wheelchair ramp and this has been taken care of as well.

JUST SO YOU KNOW.

ST. PAUL'S SISTERHOOD

Shirley Hanes, Coordinator

Our group has continued to meet over the summer.

Since our cupboard was getting very full we did some inventory and have finished our commitment to the Seafarers for another year. We have 23 scarves and 23 toques ready for Gail Payne to deliver. These two bags are now in the office. We also have enough mittens and hats for both King Albert, and Queen Victoria Schools. These will be delivered later in the Fall before winter.

At the end of June we delivered 20 Personal Care bags for Women and children to Women's Resources. These are always thankfully received. Our Sisterhood group appreciates all the help our parish family helps us with this ongoing project. We accept all donations and items can be left on the sewing machine in the library. We are no longer a fund raising group but may have a table of gift items in time for Christmas at the coffee hour after the church Service.

Sadly we said goodbye to two former members of Crafty Ladies. Well done faithful servants, Joyce and Joan.

OUTREACH COMMITTEE by Gail Payne

Your Outreach Committee met on Sept.10, 2023 as we continue to try to express God's love and grace to God's people on behalf of St. Paul's.

Things have been fairly quiet over the summer, except for the blessing, placing and stocking of St. Paul's Food Pantry in early August. So far it is obvious that this source of non-perishable food is much needed in our surrounding community as most items are seldom on the shelves for more than 2 days. We would like to thank our parishioners and our guest Tai Chi Club for so many ongoing food and hygiene donations. We are especially grateful to the lady who asked for food donations for us as part of her birthday celebrations. This was requested instead of personal gifts to this very generous lady. As a result we received a very large number of food items and several grocery gift cards. We hope and pray for continuing support from our congregation and others as well. We would be glad to hear from anyone who would volunteer to stock the shelves for one week on Sunday, Wednesday and Friday as we draw up a roster of volunteer "stockers" for the fall.

On June 24, in conjunction with the Spiritual Development Committee, we hosted an Indigenous Reconciliation program from PWRDF called Mapping the Ground We Stand On. It was a very meaningful and informative afternoon. On September 16 a group from St. Paul's will attend the annual Curve Lake First Nations Pow Wow. All are welcome.

Foster Children: we have recently received updates from Juan our SOS Village child in Chile and Kevin in Honduras. Both are doing well. We have a brief report that our 3 sponsored children in Haiti are safe. Little else is known.

On October 1, in recognition of the Season of Creation, we will host a speaker from the Christian environmental organization, ARocha. We pray we may help to renew God's creation, with God's guidance.

In conjunction with the Spiritual Development Committee, on Nov. 19 we will welcome speakers on the serious issue of human trafficking, even in our area.

We thank God for the ongoing support the Outreach Committee receives from our congregation. Thank you parishioners of St. Paul's.

CONNECTIONS (Formerly E.T.A.)

What fun we have getting together. In the summer we carpooled to Ziraldo's Restaurant in Fenelon Falls and then arranged to sit beside someone that was not in the car in which we travelled. The conversation was lively and fun. We tried for 3 tables of 4 to really mix up but settled for one table of 3 and 1 long table. In spring we had approximately the same number at Teriyaki Town in the Whitney Mall. Nothing is scheduled for fall because I am out of town most of September and because I really need a planning group to help me.

Connections (formerly E.T.A.) was started at least ten years ago to provide an opportunity to meet others. Originally for those people newly on their own and feeling left out of our "couple society", the group morphed into including anyone alone for activities. Later it was anyone, including couples as long as everyone was willing to mix with others and not sit beside their significant other or best friend.

About eight years ago we had a planning breakfast that successfully ended up with many participants sharing the responsibility for making a reservation and putting up a sign-up sheet. There were great ideas: Lindsay Little Theatre, Academy Theatre, Restaurants etc. Sharing the load made it easy.

If you have an idea, just "go for it". All you need to do is call some place to make a reservation. Put up a sheet of paper on the bulletin Board for signing up including to note if a ride is needed or offered. Call the place the day before to confirm the numbers. I am willing to put notices in the bulletins or stand up and speak if necessary. That is all the help I need. It really is simple.

I know you can do it! And I know you care because many of you come and tell me ideas that you want me to arrange! Others tell me that they do not feel they "belong" and what better way for everyone to get to know people outside our inner circles. What about a fun planning meeting this fall?

Submitted by Donna Gushue, "Connections" Facilitator

Thanks to Donna for facilitating this group, and helping singles, couples, and those who prefer venturing out with larger groups to do so. If you have ideas for future outings, or wish to help Donna out—please contact her! Editor

From the Music Director

The Choir and I are back to regular Thursday evening rehearsals, after the summer break. We welcomed Liam, Rev. Bonnie's grandson, to the choir and he seems to be enjoying it as he gets used to the music and routines. We still have room for a few more singers, if you like to sing, and are available Thursday evenings and Sunday mornings, please speak to Diane Stecher. Thanks for the positive feedback on the choir, and music we've been singing for you! We've enjoyed bringing back some of the liturgical music for Morning Prayer, and Holy Communion for those of you who like the sung service!

You may have heard how often I wander around the church building, humming to myself—a hymn, the Lord's Prayer, or whatever tune happens to end up in my head. Fortunately, I grew up in a very musical family, so music is just a large part of my daily life. I hope you have a special piece of music that lifts your spirits, or serves to enhance or evoke memories that you cherish! If so, I encourage you to listen to it!

Musically yours, Diane Stecher

CHANCEL GUILD REPORT

The Chancel Guild is responsible for preparing the church each week for the Sunday church service, clearing up after the service as well as any special services during the week such as Ash Wednesday, Maundy Thursday, Good Friday, funerals and weddings. As we have eight volunteers working in teams of two we are on duty for one week a month. Easter, Thanksgiving and Christmas we all work together to decorate the church. If this ministry would be one that interests you please speak to Rev. Bonnie or me or one of the members of the Chancel Guild and we can discuss any questions you might have.

There is now a flower chart and envelopes available on the bulletin board for anyone wishing to make a donation for flowers in memory of loved ones or in thanksgiving for blessings received. You can fill out the date you wish on the chart and fill in the information on the envelope and put it on the collection plate or take it to the office. If you have any questions please call me at (705) 324-0624.

A special thank you to Carol Nicholson, Diane Allen, Gail Payne, Ethel Morris, and Donna Williams who so kindly donated flowers from their gardens this summer!

God bless.

ST. PAUL'S BOOK CLUB

By Lorna Green

Our book club is up and running again after our summer break and the long Covid break! We meet on the first Tuesday of the month at 12 noon except for July, August, and December. Everyone brings an item for the pot luck lunch and we discuss the book after our meal. It is a wonderful meeting with great food, stimulating ideas, and congenial fellowship. In recent years we have also met for a Christmas lunch in a local restaurant.

We met in September at the home of Donna Williams who was assisted in hostessing chores by Betty Tyndall. Everyone enjoyed a delicious pot luck lunch and a lively discussion of our book selection, The Great Alone by Kristin Hannah. In October we will meet at the home of Shirley Hanes when we will discuss The Forgotten Home Child by Genevieve Graham. November's selection is The Love Song of Miss Queenie Hennessey by Rachel Joyce. The November book is a parallel story to a book we read a few years ago i.e. The Unlikely Pilgrimage of Harold Frye by the same author.

"Books + friendship = book club" Kristin Hannah

Visit to the Annual Pow Wow at Curve Lake

On Saturday Sept 16th some parishioners attended the Annual Pow Wow at Curve Lake. It was a beautiful fall day and we all enjoyed the Grand Entry, dancing, colourful costumes, and food vendors. This was a great follow-up to the Mapping the Ground event in June.
